

Lokesh Pereiro

Fullstack Web Developer

I am a passionate fullstack developer, capable of continuous learning from senior developers while enriching my team with my skills. Experienced scrum master developer to drive projects from concept to launch. Eager to take on new challenges to apply my skills on large development team.

Work Experience

Freelancer

May 2023 - Currently

While searching for the open fullstack developer position;

- I am currently offering my services on Fiverr where I develop UI using HTML, CSS, JavaScript and Reactjs to convert the design into a code within 5 days.
- In addition, I also work in client individual projects on a freelance basis. I provide frontend service using react with typescript after the 1to1 meeting.

Fullstack software developer

Assembler Institute of Technology

June 2022 - Feb 2023

Although it is often confused with traditional formation, it was actually working experience for a number of reasons which are described below.

- For 7 months I was developing cutting-edge and current projects in a real company environment using agile methodologies.
- Had opportunity to boost my frontend skills mainly HTML & CSS for layouts and JavaScript for user interactivity. In addition, experience of building robust Single Page Applications using backend technologies like Nodejs, Expressjs, MongoDB
- Deep focus on Reactjs, React Hooks and Redux to manage global state while taking into account best practices and code reusability.

WEBU Marketing Graduated

The Coca-Cola Company

Feb 2020 - May 2021

- Worked on large-scale projects from scratch, meaning from brainstorming of ideas for advertising campaigns and its final delivery to production.
- Experience with marketing tool Nielsen, Excel and Power Point presentations.
- Market study of Sprite in the Nordic countries to compare the brand with its competitors.
- Marketing assistant and market research for Coca-Cola brands such as Coke Energy and Honest Tea.
